SHUTTERS ON THE BEACH

Stepping away from your normal life for a getaway can not only be great for your individual mental health, but it can also be a prime chance to get closer to your partner if you're traveling with your S.O. Whether you're going on your first big trip together or just looking to zhuzh things up... getting away from your usual surroundings and heading to a couples' focused retreat can take your love to even higher grounds.

While you don't necessarily need to look for a place with pre-packaged couple's activities to have a restorative trip together, it certainly makes things easier. All that time spent planning excursions, dinners, and sightseeings can be better spent enjoying each other's company. And if you want your love to go even deeper, consider packing any of these couple games in your luggage, or even bookmarking these lists of questions to get to know each other better. These conversation starters can come in handy (there's always downtime in your room or when waiting for food or drinks TBH), keep boredom at bay, and ya know—help you learn more about your boo.

If you're looking to rekindle your romance or just want to getaway for a vacay with your partner, here are 24 of the coolest couple's retreats in the world. Whether you wanna do a domestic weekend trip or just want ideas to start planning for a time when international travel feels somewhat normal again, we've got you.

An LA Beachside Getaway with East Coast Vibes

USA ROMERIN

Location: Santa Monica, California

Price: From $695 (non-ocean view); and $1,150 (ocean view)

Cheapest months to book: winter months (January, December)

Activities: West Coast locale meets East Coast décor at Shutters on the Beach in Santa Monica, California. This beachside hotel offers ocean views from Cape Cod-inspired rooms located on one of Southern California's most iconic beaches (LA boardwalk, anyone?). For you beach bums, Shutters offers luxe picnic setups steps from the Pacific where you can watch surfers try to catch some waves. If you need a break from the sand (we get it, it gets everywhere!) you can set up shop in a poolside cabana, order cocktails, hop in the jacuzzi and cuddle up with your boo. Outside of the hotel, the famous Santa Monica pier is a short walk along the boardwalk, and you can stop at Muscle Beach to flex those guns, or just play on the swings (it is a vacation after all).

A laid-back Grecian paradise on the Sea

MYSTIQUE HOTEL SANTORINI

Location: Santorini, Greece

Price: villas starting at: $1594/night

Cheapest time to book: October - early November

Activities: Santorini is known as the honeymoon destination of the moment and Mystique exhibits every reason why. This sun-bleached resort is nestled into the side of a cliff and offers panoramic views of the sea across to an active volcano. If privacy is your top priority, renting a villa will get you and bae your own with uninterrupted vistas of the sparkling water. You can also enjoy a candlelit dinner on an intimate terrace sans other guests. Either way you book, the organically curved architecture and contrasting blue sea is an insta-perfect backdrop for your newlywed photoshoot.

Truffle hunts and rare-wine tastings in the Tuscan Countryside

CASSETTA

Location: Florence, Italy

Price: From $332

Cheapest months to book: Fall

Activities: Agrotourism but make it luxury. If you and your partner are into the farm-to-table concept, or just delicious food in a stunning setting, you will love boutique agriturismo Casetta - a 270 year-old luxury farmhouse. The resort offers a series of bespoke experiences curated by local connoisseurs, like private wine tours in a Ferrari (chic) and truffle hunts followed by lunch made with the fruits of your labor (yum). After an action-packed day, enjoy dolce far niente by the pool with a cocktail made with local (of course) vodka and berries.

An Outdoorsy and Creative Getaway in The Catskills

NOAH FECKS

Location: Round Top, New York (The Catskills)

Price: Starting at $185

Cheapest months to book: November – April for romantic winter and spring getaways.

Activities: If you and your partner are the kind of people who wish summer camp for adults was a thing, you'll geek out over Glen Falls House in the Catskills. In the summers, you can enjoy hiking trails, swim under waterfalls, and roasting s'mores. In the winter, you've got wood-burning stoves, slopes, and locally sourced cuisines at Trotwood restaurant. What makes this place really neat is that they also have a pretty jam-packed events calendar that changes seasonally. This year's choices included apothecary classes, health and wellness workshops, movement classes, community acupuncture, artist residencies, author readings, and more.

A Luxe Crash Course in Japanese Culture at the Mandarin Oriental, Tokyo

MANDARIN ORIENTAL TOKYO

Location: Tokyo, Japan

Price: Starting at $789/night for double occupancy

Cheapest months to book: Hard to say, but avoid the summer months in 2020 due to the Tokyo Olympics, and March or April because of the super-popular Cherry Blossom season.

Activities: Guests can choose from one of the five activities a day: A Nihonbashi walking tour, washi paper making and glass engraving, ikebana flower arrangement, a Japanese cooking lesson, or an urban river cruise. The package starts from a one-night stay, but has no limitations, so you could technically book five nights and do an activity per day if you so choose. Plus, each day you'd get access to what is probably the most jaw-dropping sauna view in the whole world.
